COUNTY SCHOOL BONDS ARE REFINANCED

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

The Dogwood tree in Dr. Tisworth's clinic yard is an oddity. The bottom is red and the top is white. Maybe it's the other way. At any rate it is both red and white.

The Anzalas in front of Marvin Fulton's home show up well.

From the looks of things the 20c banana splits sold well at the Dairy Queen Friday and Saturday. The long blue containers they put them in were knee deep by Friday night.

A Charity Ball is planned for June 11. Proceeds will go toward the Murray-Calloway County Mental Health Association. Jack Skolup and his orchestra will furnish the music. Student Union Building.

New, why didn't that old starting think of it before. Here he has been wearing himself out trying and trying to fly straight in to that hollow of the cornice above Mr. Braun's door where his nest is located.

What did he do this morning? He stood on top of the cornice, just above the hollow, flew straight out, made an about face and into the hollow.

Who said animals can't think.

Take the other day. Fluff the Guinea Pig was thirsty. He ran to the bottle where his water usually is, then ran to the front of the cage and whistled real loud. He repeated this performance several times.

Anyone could see that he wanted the water bottle filled up. So we did and he got himself a drink of water and quit doing what he was doing.

A baby rabbit has been added to the Guinea Pig domestic. Seems that Robin Hornsby turned up several baby rabbits while mowing a yard and one of them found its way to our house.

Oldest at home is going through the bottle of milk routine with the rabbit and he nurses the little fettle like he knew what he was doing.

He and the Guinea Pig seem to be compatible.

Mrs. Betts of 1617 Miller suffered an injured back and shoulder and Mrs. Garland of 620 Broad, suffered multiple bruises and a head injury.

Both are listed as in fair condition at the Henry County General Hospital in Paris.

Reports indicate that the accident occurred at 3:30 yesterday on U.S. 79 east of Paris in an area called "Death Valley," because of the large number of accidents and fatalities which have occurred there.

The pavement becomes very slick when wet and motorists cannot control their automobiles. Efforts have been made to have the situation corrected, but so far to no avail.

The automobile skidded off the left side of the highway and struck a utility pole at the driver's side. The accident occurred as the local women were approaching Paris from the east.

Last month it was brought to the attention of the board that the Parent-Teacher Association might better serve the schools if it were decentralized and each school were to have its own PTA Association and governing board. Under this system the now existing Executive board would become a coordinating council serving all the City PTA Associations. The board approved to recommend that this change be made and this recommendation will be presented to a general assembly in the fall.

The board also approved their recommendation of a state of approval to serve for the 1965-66 year. This slate will be presented for approval at the May 13th general meeting.

Saving Of $47,000 Is Expected Over A Period Of Twenty Years

The Calloway Fiscal Court, in special meeting this morning, met to sell school bonds for Calloway County High School to retire all outstanding bonds on the school.

The purpose of the bond sale this morning was to retire old high interest bonds with a new lower interest bond issue.

Fiscal Agent for the sale was Stein Bros. & Boyce. County Judge Robert O. Miller said that the bonds were sold for 3.4344 per cent.

In spite of the cost of the refinancing of the bonds, it is expected that the county school system will save approximately $47,000 on the reissue, over a period of twenty years.

In 1959 a bond issue of $400,000 was sold to build Calloway County High School and in 1960 another bond issue of $310,000 was sold to build the school gymnasium. The interest rate on these two bond issues varies from 4.25 per cent to 4.5 per cent.

Actually a lower interest rate was received this morning than anticipated since it was hoped that a rate of at least 3.6 could be obtained. The rate of 3.4344 was the best rate this morning.

Part of the old bonds will be paid off as of June 1, 1965 and the rest of the money from the bond sale this morning will be placed in a bank to draw 4 per cent interest until June 1, 1966 when the rest of the old bonds will be paid off.

The school board will actually be drawing more interest on part of the bonds than they will have to pay, for a period of one year.

As Judge Miller explained in the Fiscal Court meeting of Thursday April 8, under Kentucky law the Fiscal Court acts as the agent for the school board and must handle fiscal affairs of this nature. The school board will pay the Fiscal Court a sufficient amount each year to retire the bonds.

After the bonds are all paid, then the title to the land and school buildings at Calloway will revert to the school board.

The court has had two lease agreements with the school board on the two bond issues now outstanding. Under the present situation with the two bond issues being retired, the court will have the one agreement with the school board concerning the tax collection. These leases are the legal instrument between the court and the school board so that the court can handle the bond sales for the board, Judge Miller said.

Under the law the school board cannot of itself sell the bonds.

Following the sale of the bonds this morning, the court heard a report from Sheriff Woodrow Rankin concerning the tax collection. Only eleven persons or firms have not paid their taxes for 1964 he reported with the exception of several others deemed uncollectible.

The uncollectible accounts were examined by the court. The court asked that the eleven tax bills felt collectible be dispatched with a report made at the next term of the Fiscal Court.

The court adjourned to visit the new Public Library and the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Family Assets In Murray Are On The Increase

(Special to the Ledger & Times)

NEW YORK, Apr. 24 — The net worth of Murray residents has been rising in recent years.

As of the past year, the personal wealth (net assets) of the local population amounted to no less than $31,000,000. It is estimated, based on the latest economic studies.

Included in this total are all of their worldly possessions — money, personal property, real property and other valuables — everything, in fact, over and above their debts.

While the figure, admittedly, is not a precise one, it is derived from national surveys made by the Federal Reserve Board and others.

It takes into account the overall income in the local area and the extent to which the income is distributed among the population.

In Murray, where average earnings have been going higher and higher with the years, the net worth of local families has been rising proportionately.

What it amounts to, now, determined by dividing the $31,000,000 total assets of the community by the number of families, is an average of $17,000 per family.

Elsewhere in the East South Central States, the average is $13,100 in assets per family and in the State of Kentucky, $13,600.

Houston Astros Fast Becoming The Best Indoor Team; Astros Have Won Five In Row

By JOE GERGEN

UPI Sports Writer

The Houston Astros are fast becoming the best indoor baseball team in the United States.

Strange things have been happening to Houston ball players ever since the team moved into its glittering $31.6 million Astrodome this season and the strangest thing of all is that the Astros now have won five National League games in a row.

While it is a little early to classify the Astros as perennial contenders, the once forlorn Houston club, which never has finished higher than eighth in its three previous seasons, is solidly entrenched in fourth place and boasts two individual major league statistical leaders.

The latest player to be inspired by the magnificence of the Texas palace is a young right-hander named Dave Giusti, just one of two previous seasons with the NL club won exactly two games.

All the 25-year-old Syracuse University alumnus has done this year is compile a 3-0 record in four appearances to the hit with Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati for the best record among big league hurlers.

Astros Swept Bucs

Giusti's latest effort, a superb 2-0 shutout of the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday night, provided the Astros with a sweep of their four-game weekend series with the Bucs and boosted their record to a highly creditable 7-4, including four wins in five decisions under the dome.

Pittsburgh, managed only four scattered singles off Giusti, who earned his first starting assignment since 1962 with some flashy relief work last week, and threatened only once in the game when a single and two Houston errors loaded the bases in the third, Giusti promptly fanned Willie Stargell for one of his nine strike outs to ease out of the jam.

In his four appearances this year, Giusti has allowed a total of five hits and a single run in 14 1/3 innings, walked one and struck out 13. His first victory occurred on April 21 against Philadelphia and started the Astros on their current win streak, and his three victories have come within the space of six days.

John Bateman, who is tied in the major league home run derby with four round-trippers, knocked in one run to raise his RBI total to nine, third best in the senior circuit, and Bob Aspromonte drove home the other with one of his two safeties off Bob Friend, who allowed only six hits in absorbing his first loss after two wins.

Phil Nip Dodgers

The Philadelphia Phillies edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 and handed Sandy Koufax his first defeat in the only other National League game. All 10 American League teams were idle.

The suspense adventure by (John Creasey) A PROMISE OF DIAMONDS

"Twenty-two," agreed Dawlish. He did not hear another sound, but a draft was cutting in from the door; he hadn't noticed it before. He pushed the diamonds together in a heap. "They can't be real," Della said chokily. "Of course they could be." "Real diamonds?" "They look like uncut diamonds," Dawlish said. "I've seen a few in my time." He was thinking with one half of his mind about the sound and the draft, with the other half about the diamonds. He judged that the smallest was ten carats or so, the largest perhaps fifteen. Say an average of ten each; say fifty pounds a carat; say six hundred pounds a stone or fourteen thousand the lot. That was near enough. Fourteen thousand pounds' worth of a hundred million pounds' worth wasn't a large proportion, but if these were from the big steal...

CHAPTER 19 PATRICK DAWLISH picked up the stone and held it out to Della Forrest on the palm of his hand. It looked like a little piece of glass, perhaps a misshapen glass marble. "It can't be a diamond!" Della exclaimed.

"It's heavy," Dawlish said softly. "For its size it's very heavy." Della's fingers trembled as she took it. Dawlish felt along the roughly made palm-wood belt for another lump, felt one, and broke the dry front about it. Another stone of about the same size showed among the fragments. He picked it out. "Another," breathed Della. "Several," Dawlish said. "I can't believe it."

Dawlish said, "It's certainly not a dream." He stood up, went to a table, and began to break the belt into little pieces. Fragments of frond littered the table, like chaff, and every now and again a stone fell, sharply. He counted them as he went along but could not be sure he had the right number. He put them in a row, one by one. Della began to count. "One—two—three—four—five—"

Dawlish checked as she went on, her voice hardly audible. "—ten—eleven—twelve—thirteen—"

That was the moment when he thought he heard a sound. He did not look up, but strained his ears to catch a repetition. Della was still counting. "—nineteen—twenty—twenty-one—" and in a whisper, "Twenty-two."

Engagements - Marriages

Dear Abby . . .

'Nuff Said!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You are a hypocrite! In one column you tell teenagers to grow up before they get married. And then you turn around and write a column congratulating women on being the youngest grandmothers you can find.

Tell me, what kind of "honor" is it to have a baby at 13 or 14?

I wonder how the average mother would feel if her 14-year-old daughter came home and said, "Mom, I'm pregnant." Would Mom say, "It's okay, dear, now I can enter Dear Abby's Youngest Grandmother contest?"

MOTHER AT 29 (and that was soon enough)

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a woman has to get all dressed up just to go shopping? My husband and I always do our week's shopping together on Saturday afternoon. I am a rather large woman and when I dress up I wear a foundation garment, but I never bother to put one on just to spend an hour or two in my own neighborhood shopping center. I just throw on any old house dress that's handy.

Last Saturday my husband blew his top and said he wasn't going to be seen with me if I went like that. We had a few words and I gave him my shopping list and he went alone. Do you see anything wrong with a woman dressed the way I was just to go shopping in her own neighborhood? If someone I knew saw me that way I'm sure they'd think nothing of it.

DEAR COMFORTABLE: The opinion of your husband is far more important than the opinion of chance acquaintances. Furthermore, a sturdy foundation is essential in all marriages, and a wise wife won't mind struggling into one to please her husband.

DEAR ABBY: A woman asked me over morning coffee if the Swede I was married to was "cold." I was taken aback and replied only, "No, Abby, my Swede is anything but 'cold.' He is over fifty now and there were times when I had wished he were older. Where do people get the mistaken idea that Swedes are 'cold'?"

A SWEDISH WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It is probably a rumor started by a Norwegian.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LENA IN JERSEY: I also believe in letting sleeping dogs lie, but next time, wake up your husband and ask him to tell you the truth.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif.

Murray Woman's Club

Kappa Department

Mrs. James A. Rogers, chairman

The "infant" of the Murray Woman's Club is the Kappa Department, organized in May 1964 with a charter membership of 44.

With many members new to the work of the club, the emphasis this year has been an orientation in its objectives through exploring avenues of self-improvement and service to others.

Introduced to the pleasure of good music ranging from folk music to sophisticated music, to the excitement of world travel, to the challenges in mental health, and to the world of books. Other topics of study have been interior decoration, lessons in stitchery and the needs of Murray's teenagers.

In service to others, the Kappas have contributed to the Murray-Calloway County Library, the Mental Health program, CARE, and participated in the rummage sale for the Artistic fund.

The first year of the Kappa department has been successful. It is felt, in starting its members up the ladder to improvement of self and service to others.

Murray Woman's Club

Music Department

Mrs. Robert Baar, chairman

The Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club has as its main interest, the furtherance of education in the field of music. To this end, we have established a College Student Loan Fund of $100.00; a College Sophomore Scholarship fund, an Egyptian Music Camp fund; and a series of three concerts a year for children of kindergarten age thru the sixth grade from all the city and county schools.

This year's winner of the fifty dollar College Sophomore Scholarship award was Mr. Jerry Davis, an oboe major, from Hopkinsville, Ky. The Egyptian Music Camp contest will be held April 21 at the clubhouse. The two winning high school students from Murray and Calloway County will each enjoy a week at the music camp during the summer months.

The grade school children have enjoyed concerts by the Murray State College Orchestra and the A Cappella Choir and the band. We were very pleased this year to have these concerts attended by many children from the county schools, the school for handicapped children, in addition to the students from our city schools. Of course our hope is the day that all schools will be able to attend. We feel this is a very worthwhile endeavor since many children are introduced to their first formal concert in this manner.

This year we have contributed a gift of $50.00 to the Murray State College A Cappella Choir for their purpose of their tour of seven European countries this summer; we have financially supported the Murray Calloway County Public Library, CARE, and the Artistic Fund and the Mental Health Clinic.

Our various contributions and financial aid to students is supported in the main by our annual style show, Spring Interlude. This year in addition to showing the latest spring and summer fashions, we served luncheon followed by a card party.

We have, for the third time, entered the Shell Oil Contest and are hopeful of winning the $500.00 award to further aid us in our scholarship endeavors. We placed second in last years contest, after having won the award the previous year.
